Professional Designations Disclosures:

Accredited Asset Management SpecialistSM (AAMS[®]) – The College for Financial Planning[®] awards the ACCREDITED ASSET MANAGEMENT SPECIALISTSM and AAMS[®] designation to students who; successfully complete the program; pass the final examination; and comply with the Code of Ethics, which includes agreeing to abide by the Standards of Professional Conduct and Terms and Conditions.

Students must sign and return the Code of Ethics forms within six months of passing the final exam. Failure to complete and submit the forms within this time frame may result in termination of the individual's candidacy. Continued use of the AAMS[®] designation is subject to ongoing renewal requirements. Every two years individuals must renew their right to continue using the AAMS[®] designation by: completing 16 hours of continuing education; reaffirming to abide by the Standards of Professional Conduct, Terms and Conditions, and self-disclose any criminal, civil, self-regulatory organization, or governmental agency inquiry, investigation, or proceeding relating to their professional or business conduct; and paying a biennial renewal fee.

The exam is offered electronically at a testing center. Topics include: The Asset Management Process, Investors, Policy & Change, Risk, Return & Investment Performance, Asset Allocation & Selection, Investment Strategies, Taxation of Investment Products, and Investment Opportunities for an Individual's Retirement, Investment Considerations for Small-Business Owners, and Deferred Compensation & Other Benefit Plans for Key Executives.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary[®] (AIF[®]) – The Accredited Investment Fiduciary[®] (AIF[®]) professional designation is offered through fi360's AIF Training program. AIF designees learn to identify when an individual or organization may be deemed to have fiduciary status, identify the legal standards that require fiduciaries to prudently manage investment decisions, apply the practices that define a prudent process for investment stewards and advisors, and strengthen their policies and procedures. Upon completion of the program, you must pass a 90-minute closed book exam.

Ongoing AIF designees must; accrue six hours of continuing professional education annually, attest to a code of ethics, maintain current contact information in fi360's designee database and remit annual dues

Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst[®] (AIFA[®]) – The Accredited Investment Fiduciary AnalystTM professional designation is offered through fi360's AIFA Training program. Applicants must have obtained the AIF[®] credential, complete the AIFA[®] training program and have a minimum of 8 years of relevant experience within the financial services industry. Upon completion of the specialized program on investment fiduciary standards of care, the designee will have a thorough knowledge of and ability to apply the fiduciary practices. They are qualified to conduct independent fiduciary reviews for nonprofit endowments and foundations, ERISA retirement plans, private family trusts and high net worth individuals.

Ongoing a minimum of 10 hours of Continuing Education must be accrued and reported to retain the credential. In addition, designees must review and update their application and remit payment of dues during their annual renewal cycle.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNERTM (CFP[®]) - The CFP[®] certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP[®] certification. It is recognized in the United States and several other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP[®] marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services and attain a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP[®] Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances.
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP[®] professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP[®] professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP[®] professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP[®] professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP[®] certification.

Certified Health Savings Adviser (CHSA®) – The CHSA® is a nationally-recognized training and designation program that is designed to provide financial and employee benefit professionals with the knowledge and support required to take full advantage of the rapidly growing consumer-driven healthcare and HSA marketplaces - for the benefit of their clients as well as their own practices. The CHSA® is more than just the rules and regulations surrounding health savings accounts –though that is covered in the program. The CHSA® is designed to provide context as to how the HSA fits into the bigger puzzle of healthcare financing and retirement planning. As a prerequisite required to obtain the designation, an individual must currently be employed or have two years of work experience in either the financial services or human resources / benefits industry. The certification program consists of four modules from Intro and the Basics to insights on a long-term strategy to utilize HSAs. Candidates must receive a passing score of 70% on the exam. The CHSA® certification signifies that an individual has met initial and on-going experience, ethical, education, and examination requirements for investment

Certified Investment Management Analyst® (CIMA®) – The CIMA certification signifies that an individual has met initial and on-going experience, ethical, education, and examination requirements for investment management consulting, including advanced investment management theory and application. Prerequisites for the CIMA certification are three years of financial services experience and an acceptable regulatory history. To obtain the CIMA certification, candidates must pass a proctored Qualification Examination, successfully complete a one-week classroom education program provided by a Registered Education Provider at an AACSB accredited university business school, pass an online Certification Examination, and have an acceptable regulatory history as evidenced by FINRA Form U-4 or other regulatory requirements. CIMA designees are required to adhere to IWA's Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks. CIMA designees must report 40 hours of continuing education credits, including two ethics hours, every two years to maintain the certification. The designation is administered through Investment and Wealth Institute (IWI).

Certified Plan Fiduciary Advisor (CPFA®) – The CPFA credential demonstrates an adviser's knowledge, expertise, and commitment to working with retirement plans. Plan advisers who earn their CPFA demonstrate the expertise required to act as a plan fiduciary or help plan fiduciaries manage their roles and responsibilities. Candidates must pass a qualifying exam that focuses on the following areas: ERISA Fiduciary Roles and Responsibilities, ERISA Fiduciary Oversight, ERISA Plan Investment Management, and ERISA Plan Management. To maintain your CPFA credentials, candidates must earn 20 continuing education credits every two years. Of those 20 credits, 2 must be on ethics / professionalism. The designation is administered through National Association of Plan Advisors (NAPA).

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) – In order to become a CPA in the United States, the candidate must sit for and pass the Uniform Certified Public Accountant Examination, which is set by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and administered by the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy. Eligibility to sit for the Uniform CPA Exam is determined by their individual State Boards of Accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, typically the requirement is a U.S. bachelor's degree which includes a minimum number of qualifying credit hours in accounting and business administration. Most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA. All CPA candidates must pass the Uniform CPA Examination to qualify for a CPA certificate and license to practice public accounting. The CPA examination consists of four sections and is a rigorous, computerized exam.

CPAs are required to take continuing education courses to renew their license. Requirements vary by state. Most states require 120 hours of CPE every 3 years with a minimum of 20 hours per calendar year. As part of the CPE requirement, most states require their CPAs to take an ethics course during every renewal period. Ethics requirements vary by state, and the courses range from 2–8 hours. Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. Most state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA) – The CAIA credential is for professionals managing, analyzing, distributing, or regulating alternative investments. Candidates must complete two exam levels from the characteristics of various strategies within each alternative asset class to portfolio management concepts central to alternative investments. The Level I exam consists of 200 multiple choice questions and covers 8 topics: professional standards and ethics, introduction to alternative investments, real assets, hedge funds, private equity, structured products and risk and portfolio management. Level II exam consists of 100 multiple choice questions, plus three sets of constructed response essay questions. The curriculum is broadly divided into two sections: alternative investments and core and integrated topics. Upon obtaining the CAIA members must complete a self-evaluation tool every three years to fulfill the continuing education requirement.

Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®) - To earn a CFA charter, you must have four years of qualified investment work experience, become a member of the CFA Institute, pledge to adhere to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct on an annual basis, apply for membership to a local CFA member society, and complete the CFA Program. The CFA Program is organized into three levels, each culminating in a six-hour exam. Level I is offered in June or December and Level II and III are administered in June. In passing these exams, candidates demonstrate their competence, integrity and extensive knowledge in accounting, ethical and professional standards, economics, portfolio management and security analysis.

Financial Paraplanner Qualified ProfessionalSM (FPQP[®]) - A Financial Paraplanner Qualified Professional (FPQP) has a proven expertise in the arena of financial planning, which helps them better advise their clients. They are different than most paraplanners because the average paraplanner rarely has a formal certification. Paraplanners are part of a financial planning team and often do most tasks associated with financial planning services. However, they do not usually take the lead in terms of client relationships. One can obtain a Financial Paraplanner Qualified Professional (FPQP) designation by enrolling in and successfully completing the Foundations in Financial Planning program. The FPQP certificate is offered by the College for Financial Planning (CFFP). FPQP certificate holders need to complete 16 hours of continuing education every other year.

Nonqualified Plan Consultant (NQPCTM) (Formerly Nonqualified Plan Advisor (NOPATM)) - The Nonqualified Plan Consultant (NQPCTM) is an offered designation by NAPA for retirement plan professionals. They can typically advise employers on nonqualified plan design, implementation, participant communication, tax considerations and accounting matters, as well as plan financing strategies. There is a requirement of 10 hours of continuing education every year to maintain this designation.

Qualified 401(k) Administrator (QKA[®]) - The Qualified 401(k) Administrator (QKA) is an offered designation by ASPAA for retirement plan professionals who work primarily with 401(k) plans. They typically assist employers and consultants with the recordkeeping, non-discrimination testing and the administrative aspects of 401(k) and related contribution plans. One must have 2 years related experience in the retirement plan industry, up to 200 hours of study to complete the credential and average completion time is 18 months. There are 3 areas of study to complete and test: Retirement Plan Fundamentals, Defined Contribution Administrative Issues – Basic Concepts (DC -1) and Defined Contribution Administrative Issues – Basic Concepts (DC -2). There is a requirement of 40 hours of continuing education in a two-year cycle and renew their ASPAA Membership annually to retain their credential(s).
